

Text: Paul Wigmore

The Feast of St Paul

Music: Mark Swinton

In the style of plainchant - flowing, with emphasis on the first note of each 'bar'

(At all double barlines, add a rest worth 2)

(cantor) (full)

1: In cold and na - ked - ness, wea - ri - ness, pain - ful - ness,

In pe - rils by the hea - then, by false breth - ren;

Born a - new by a light, ran the race, fought the fight:

"Yet not I, Christ it is who li - veth in me.

Now in peace, now in strife, heed all his words of life:

"Yet not I, Christ it is who li - veth in me.
